

Betty Sue Bollinger

October 18, 1951 - November 24, 2024
Asheville, North Carolina

In Asheville, on November 24, 2024, Betty Sue Bollinger died at 73. Born on October 18, 1951 and raised among Polish-American manners that never needed a speech. She learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

She stitched boxes until gauges agreed and pride could return. A box stitcher gauge taped to the bench meant the next hand could trust the last. Colleagues still mention a box stitcher gauge taped to the bench.

She married Ernest in 1976. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised two sons and a daughter through public schools and ordinary weather. After Ernest died in 2017, she kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember the radio low on a Saturday while repairs got done. She liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. She died in Asheville, among streets she never needed to explain. The chair by the window still holds the shape of a habit.

Services

A memorial gathering in Asheville with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
