

Clyde James Vujovic

September 13, 1940 - September 5, 2026

Greenville, South Carolina

Greenville lost Clyde James Vujovic on September 5, 2026. He was 85. He was born on September 13, 1940 in a Montenegrin-American family that measured love in finished chores. Early on, he decided that a paycheck and a handshake should weigh the same.

He voiced pianos until they sounded like rooms, not machines. A tuning fork in a wooden case stayed warm from his hand. Colleagues still mention a tuning fork in a wooden case.

He and Helen married in 1964 and raised two daughters without needing an audience. After Helen's death in 2019, he held to quiet habits-coffee before dawn, a tended yard, a voice on the phone that still checked in.

Neighbors remember coffee offered before questions. He preferred the hour before a town fully wakes. Greenville was home enough that he never rehearsed an introduction. The porch still expects a returning step.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. His life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

A quiet remembrance in Greenville. Those who wish may give to a neighborhood library, food pantry, or workers' aid fund instead of flowers.
