

Gordon Scott Kaminski

July 11, 1935 - February 23, 2026

Dover, Delaware

Gordon Scott Kaminski, 90, of Dover, died on February 23, 2026. Born in Dover on July 11, 1935; Turkish-American cooking and payday thrift set the tone of the house. Young, he understood that quiet competence outlasts loud plans.

He rejected shells that would embarrass a season. A shucking knife sheath oiled was his preferred tool. Colleagues still mention a shucking knife sheath oiled.

He and Edna married in 1962 and raised a son and a daughter without needing an audience. After Edna's death in 2019, he held to quiet habits-coffee before dawn, a tended yard, a voice on the phone that still checked in.

Neighbors remember snow shoveled past the corner that was not required. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Dover, among streets he never needed to explain. The calendar still has a circle on payday.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. His life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

A quiet remembrance in Dover. Those who wish may give to a neighborhood library, food pantry, or workers' aid fund instead of flowers.
