

Harold James Featherstone

November 9, 1940 - August 29, 2026

Bridgeport, Connecticut

Harold James Featherstone died in Bridgeport on August 29, 2026. He was 85. Born on November 9, 1940, into a Anglo New England household that treated work as a language. He learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

He rode cars through prairie wind and winter. A lantern polished every Sunday was ritual; the railroad was a church with steel pews. Colleagues still mention a lantern he polished every Sunday.

He married Margaret in 1962. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised a son through public schools and ordinary weather. After Margaret died in 2019, he kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember coffee offered before questions. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Bridgeport, among streets he never needed to explain. The recipe card is still stained in the useful places.

Services

A memorial gathering in Bridgeport with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
