

Horace Lee Bramwell

September 21, 1940 - August 8, 2026

Buffalo, New York

Horace Lee Bramwell died in Buffalo on August 8, 2026. He was 85. Born on September 21, 1940, raised among African American manners that never needed a speech. He learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

He moved steel through air as if gravity were a suggestion. A thermos that never leaked outlasted three lunchboxes. Colleagues still mention a lunchbox thermos that never leaked.

He married Ruth in 1962. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised three children through public schools and ordinary weather. After Ruth died in 2019, he kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember someone who swept the sidewalk past the property line when weather had been unfair. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Buffalo, among streets he never needed to explain. The chair by the window still holds the shape of a habit.

Services

A memorial gathering in Buffalo with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
