

Ida Rae Detweiler

April 3, 1939 - October 6, 2024

Grand Island, Nebraska

Friends in Grand Island remember Ida Rae Detweiler, who died on October 6, 2024 at 85. Born in Grand Island on April 3, 1939; French-Canadian cooking and payday thrift set the tone of the house. She grew up believing that showing up was the first craft.

She oiled gates that argued with river and schedules. A lock gate oil rag on a hook outlasted two captains. Colleagues still mention a lock gate oil rag on a hook.

She married Floyd in 1964. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised a daughter and two sons through public schools and ordinary weather. After Floyd died in 2017, she kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember a wave from the driveway that meant you were seen. She liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. She died in Grand Island, among streets she never needed to explain. The recipe card is still stained in the useful places.

Services

A memorial gathering in Grand Island with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
