

Joaquim Nuno Pimental

August 14, 1951 - August 25, 2026

New Bedford, Massachusetts

Joaquim Nuno Pimental died in New Bedford on August 25, 2026. He was 75. Born on August 14, 1951, with Portuguese-American roots that shaped the table more than the flag. He learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

He kept diesels alive offshore when weather argued otherwise. An oil-stained prayer card rode in his pocket; the crew called him when the gauges lied. Colleagues still mention an oil-stained prayer card.

He married Teresa in 1975. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised three children through public schools and ordinary weather. After Teresa died in 2019, he kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember covered dishes that arrived without a speech. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in New Bedford, among streets he never needed to explain. The key is still under the same brick.

Services

A memorial gathering in New Bedford with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
