

Joyce Faye Suleiman

March 22, 1945 - September 2, 2026

Springfield, Missouri

On September 2, 2026, Joyce Faye Suleiman died at home in Springfield. She was 81. Born March 22, 1945 in Springfield, carrying Sudanese-American stories that arrived without footnotes. She grew up believing that showing up was the first craft.

She kept charts that held whole families. A records stamp pad dried carefully overnight; privacy was not optional. Colleagues still mention a records stamp pad.

In 1971 she married Thomas. The marriage was not a speech; it was groceries, repairs, and three daughters walked to school in weather that did not care. When Thomas died in 2019, she kept what still worked: the early walk, the small garden, the call on Sundays.

Neighbors remember coffee offered before questions. She liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. She died in Springfield, among streets she never needed to explain. The key is still under the same brick.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. Her life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

Services in Springfield will be simple: stories, coffee, and the names of people who showed up. Flowers optional; support for a local clinic or trade scholarship preferred.
