

Lars Erik Jernberg

August 3, 1946 - August 24, 2026

Savannah, Georgia

Lars Erik Jernberg died in Savannah on August 24, 2026. He was 80. Born on August 3, 1946, with Swedish-American roots that shaped the table more than the flag. He learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

He counted cargo under a sun that did not care about manifests. His clipboard never left the cab, and the union hall still uses his system. Colleagues still mention a clipboard that never left the cab.

He married Ingrid in 1971. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised a daughter through public schools and ordinary weather. After Ingrid died in 2019, he kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember a rake leaned against a shared fence after a storm. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Savannah, among streets he never needed to explain. The radio is still tuned to the station that played while work got done.

Services

A memorial gathering in Savannah with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
