

Marian Ann Middaugh

August 4, 1945 - September 11, 2025

Santa Fe, New Mexico

Marian Ann Middaugh, 80, of Santa Fe, died on September 11, 2025. Born August 4, 1945 in Santa Fe, carrying Irish-American stories that arrived without footnotes. She grew up believing that showing up was the first craft.

She worked machines that never held still. A fleshing machine glove liner dried by the stove taught waiting. Colleagues still mention a fleshing machine glove liner.

She and James married in 1972 and raised two sons and a daughter without needing an audience. After James's death in 2018, she held to quiet habits-coffee before dawn, a tended yard, a voice on the phone that still checked in.

Neighbors remember snow shoveled past the corner that was not required. Mornings were her favorite shift at home. She died in Santa Fe, on streets that already knew her pace. The lunch pail still waits by the back door.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. Her life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

A quiet remembrance in Santa Fe. Those who wish may give to a neighborhood library, food pantry, or workers' aid fund instead of flowers.
