

Marie-Claire Baptista

February 3, 1949 - August 25, 2026

Orlando, Florida

Marie-Claire Baptista died in Orlando on August 25, 2026. She was 77. Born in Orlando on February 3, 1949, into a Haitian-American household that treated work as a language. She learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

She ran floors that never slept. A checklist in two languages kept standards; she taught that a made bed is a small mercy. Colleagues still mention a cart checklist in two languages.

She married Jean in 1974. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised a son through public schools and ordinary weather. After Jean died in 2019, she kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember a rake leaned against a shared fence after a storm. She liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. She died in Orlando, among streets she never needed to explain. The tools are still hung where a hand can find them in the dark.

Services

A memorial gathering in Orlando with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
