

Maurice John Hutchison

September 13, 1939 - August 14, 2026

Savannah, Georgia

On August 14, 2026, Maurice John Hutchison died at home in Savannah. He was 86. Born in Savannah on September 13, 1939; Scottish-American cooking and payday thrift set the tone of the house. Early on, he decided that a paycheck and a handshake should weigh the same.

She taught teens that shelves are a kind of public promise. A library due-date stamp clicked like a quiet metronome. Colleagues still mention a library due-date stamp.

In 1965 he married Janet. The marriage was not a speech; it was groceries, repairs, and two sons walked to school in weather that did not care. When Janet died in 2019, he kept what still worked: the early walk, the small garden, the call on Sundays.

Neighbors remember coffee offered before questions. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Savannah, among streets he never needed to explain. The radio is still tuned to the station that played while work got done.

Services

Services in Savannah will be simple: stories, coffee, and the names of people who showed up. Flowers optional; support for a local clinic or trade scholarship preferred.
