

Orville Keith Guglielmetti

July 19, 1938 - July 25, 2026

Miami, Florida

Friends in Miami remember Orville Keith Guglielmetti, who died on July 25, 2026 at 88. Born on July 19, 1938 and raised among Serbian-American manners that never needed a speech. Early on, he decided that a paycheck and a handshake should weigh the same.

He ran tickets that had to look rested for strangers before dawn. A ferry ticket punch taught that made seats are small mercies. Colleagues still mention a ferry ticket punch.

He and Shirley married in 1965 and raised two children without needing an audience. After Shirley's death in 2019, he held to quiet habits-coffee before dawn, a tended yard, a voice on the phone that still checked in.

Neighbors remember snow shoveled past the corner that was not required. He preferred the hour before a town fully wakes. Miami was home enough that he never rehearsed an introduction. The chair by the window still holds the shape of a habit.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. His life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

A quiet remembrance in Miami. Those who wish may give to a neighborhood library, food pantry, or workers' aid fund instead of flowers.
