

Phyllis Faye Kreider

October 21, 1948 - August 6, 2024

Rutland, Vermont

Phyllis Faye Kreider of Rutland died on August 6, 2024 at the age of 75. She was born on October 21, 1948 in a Portuguese-American family that measured love in finished chores. She grew up believing that showing up was the first craft.

She issued parts that kept barns from improvising danger. A parts crib bin label set rebuilt more trust than lawyers. Colleagues still mention a parts crib bin label set.

She married Lester in 1970. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised two sons through public schools and ordinary weather. After Lester died in 2017, she kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember quiet help with a stuck mailbox or a heavy trash can. Mornings were her favorite shift at home. She died in Rutland, on streets that already knew her pace. The key is still under the same brick.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. Her life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

A memorial gathering in Rutland with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
