

Ramon Luis Russo

November 24, 1949 - September 4, 2026

Washington, District of Columbia

Ramon Luis Russo died in Washington on September 4, 2026. He was 76. Born in Washington on November 24, 1949, raised among Italian-Latino manners that never needed a speech. He learned early that a day is something you finish, not something you wait for.

He made change for badges and briefcases with equal courtesy. A drawer balanced by feel meant the day was honest. Colleagues still mention a change drawer balanced by feel.

He married Elena in 1976. They kept a house that stayed modest when the neighborhood did not. They raised a son through public schools and ordinary weather. After Elena died in 2019, he kept the routines that still made sense: the walk, the garden, the Sunday call.

Neighbors remember someone who knew every child's name on the block. He liked early mornings before the heat or the noise. He died in Washington, among streets he never needed to explain. The tools are still hung where a hand can find them in the dark.

Services

A memorial gathering in Washington with coffee afterward. In lieu of flowers, a gift to a local workers' fund, clinic, or neighborhood library is welcome.
