

Raymond Gene Treadaway

May 9, 1946 - April 11, 2025

Fresno, California

On April 11, 2025, Raymond Gene Treadaway died at home in Fresno. He was 78. Born in Fresno on May 9, 1946; Scotch-Irish cooking and payday thrift set the tone of the house. He learned that neighborhoods remember who helps without being asked.

He weighed loads that had to become roads before weather changed its mind. An asphalt weigh ticket clipboard never erased was gospel in small print. Colleagues still mention an asphalt weigh ticket clipboard never erased.

In 1972 he married Betty. The marriage was not a speech; it was groceries, repairs, and two children walked to school in weather that did not care. When Betty died in 2018, he kept what still worked: the early walk, the small garden, the call on Sundays.

Neighbors remember coffee offered before questions. He preferred the hour before a town fully wakes. Fresno was home enough that he never rehearsed an introduction. The key is still under the same brick.

What remains is not a legend but a practice: showing up, keeping a promise, leaving a place better than you found it. His life was the kind America is built from and too often forgets to name.

Services

Services in Fresno will be simple: stories, coffee, and the names of people who showed up. Flowers optional; support for a local clinic or trade scholarship preferred.
