

San Diego development approvals, September 27–October 3, 2026

Public notice. The City of San Diego Development Services permits map lists 900 approvals with an approval issue date from September 27, 2026, through October 3, 2026.

The newest approval issue date on that map is October 1, 2026. The largest approval types in the window were traffic control permit (205), no-plan residential combination mechanical, electrical, and plumbing (193), combination building permit (81), photovoltaic (71), and building permit (54).

The map returned 27 approval types in all, and those type counts add to 900. This notice does not list a street address or an approval number.

It is a citywide count from the city's public map service. Check San Diego's own record before you rely on it.
